The screenshot shows the ACSD Instructional Technology website. On the left is a navigation menu with items like 'Announcements', 'NewsFlash', 'Grades K-2 Links', etc. The main content area is titled 'NewsFlash' and contains a sign-up request: 'Please add your email address to this page if you would like to receive important announcements related to technology integration in the Arlington Central School District.' Below this is a promotional message for LeapFrog books: 'K-2 Teachers!! LeapFrog is donating 1 million LeapPad books to promote summer reading. This offer expires after the first 40,000 teachers sign-up or May1, 2005 whichever comes first. For more information visit: www.leapfrogsschoolhouse.com/summerbooks'. At the bottom of the main content area is a button labeled 'Add Email Address'. A black arrow points from the top left to the 'NewsFlash' link in the menu, and another black arrow points from the right to the 'Add Email Address' button. The footer includes 'MyTeacherWeb' and 'Last Modified: Thursday April 07 2005'.

The screenshot shows the TeacherWeb.com sign-up form. At the top is the 'TeacherWeb.com' logo and the tagline: 'Enhancing communication among teachers, students and parents!'. Below this is the heading: 'Add Your Email Address To The Email Distribution List'. The form consists of two input fields: 'Your Name' and 'One and only one email address'. Below the email field is a button labeled 'Add Your Email Address' and a link: 'Return To NewsFlash page'. A large black circle highlights the entire sign-up form area, and a black arrow points from the left towards the 'Your Name' field. The footer contains the copyright notice: '© 2004 TeacherWeb, Inc.'.
