

We have been informed that on Wednesday afternoon a group of students was at the corner of Route 44 and Townsend Blvd. in the Town of Poughkeepsie waiting for the Regents exams bus. They were approached by a man driving a four-door white Pontiac. The driver is described as a man between 30-40 years old, with multiple piercings, tan with lots of tattoos, and dark spiky hair. He motioned for a boy to approach the car and handed him what appeared to be a homemade business card for "Tattoo on the Run." The man reportedly said, "You're hot, give me a call." A description of the incident, as well as the phone number on the card, has been given to the Town of Poughkeepsie Police and to Trooper Schraff, the high school resource officer.
