Rzodkiewicz

JAZZ III

Arlington Jazz III is the 3rd largest Jazz Ensemble at Arlington High School. Membership in this extra-curricular ensemble is determined by audition and the group rehearses one day per week for 2 hours each rehearsal. The focus of Jazz III is to provide basic instruction in jazz-related rhythms, tone, styles, concepts, listening skills and improvisation. The ultimate goal of this ensemble is to give interested students an opportunity to study and perform jazz ensemble literature. This ensemble performs in various festivals and concerts within the school district as well as around the county and state.

JAZZ II

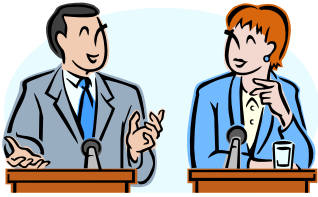

Arlington Jazz II is the 2nd Jazz Ensemble at Arlington High School. Membership in this extra-curricular ensemble is determined by audition and the group rehearses one day per week for 2 hours each rehearsal. The focus of this intermediate ensemble is to further develop jazz performance skills beyond the basic level towards more advanced concepts and literature. There is also an increased focus on improvisation and listening skills. This ensemble performs in various festivals and concerts within the school district as well as around the county and state.

JAZZ MACHINE

The Arlington High School Jazz Machine is the top Jazz Ensemble at Arlington High School. Membership in this extra-curricular ensemble is determined by audition and the group rehearses one night per week for 3 hours each rehearsal. This ensemble is for the most advanced jazz performers and the focus is to perform "concert oriented" jazz literature that is often recorded by college or professional big bands, with a greater emphasis on improvisational and listening skills. This ensemble performs in various festivals and concerts within the school district as well as around the county, state, and the northeast region. The Jazz Machine performs annually at the Berklee College of Music High School Jazz Festival, which is the largest one-day high school jazz festival in the USA.

JAZZ COMBO

The Arlington Red Cross Club is a community service organization that works directly with the Hudson Valley Red Cross chapter. We participate in events organized by the American Red Cross every month along with our own community service projects. Every member will be registered as an official member of the American Red Cross. We mainly will focus on both school events and local fundraisers.

Let's expand the AHS community to include senior citizens and build strong relations across the generations. AHS students will meet once or twice a month and visit a local senior citizen home regularly. The aim is to enrich the lives of both the students and seniors by building strong dynamic relations. It's an opportunity to interact through activities and conversations, exploring our similarities and differences.
