

Group Members: _____

Research Topic: _____

	4	3	2	1	Total:
Content	The group submitted answers to all questions and provided valuable and thoughtful information for the rest of the class.	The group submitted answers to all questions and provided mostly valuable information for the rest of the class.	The group submitted answers to all questions, but the information was incorrect and invaluable for the rest of the class.	The group did not submit the completed questions at the end of the class period.	_____
Collaboration	All members stayed on task during class time, worked well together, evenly split up the work, and were respectful to each other's ideas.	All members stayed on task for most of the class time; most of the group members contributed to the final product; members were respectful to one another.	The group did not stay on task for most of the class time period; few members of the group did not contribute to the final product.	The students did not work well together, they did not stay on task during class time; it is obvious that not all members of the team contributed to the final product.	_____
Presentation	All members of the group contributed to the presentation; students speak loudly and clearly; students present information in a way that allows the audience to take notes and receive all information.	All members of the group speak during the presentation; most students speak loudly enough for the audience to hear them; all students allow the audience to take notes and receive most information.	Most members of the group speak during the presentation; most students speak loudly enough for the audience to hear them; some students allow the audience to take notes and receive some information.	Only a few members of the team speak during the presentation; students speak quietly and are not heard; students speak too quickly and does not give the audience time to record notes.	_____

Score: _____

Comments:
